WE'RE ON THE ROAD TO RICHES

Staff at the Sandgate headquarters of Saga are set to collect £8,000 in cash and £2,500 in shares after EU regulators gave the company the go-ahead for its £6 billion merger with the AA

BY NICK AMES

WORKERS at Saga are each to receive an £8,000 payout following their company's merger with motor-ing giant AA.

They will also receive £2,500 of shares in the new company as a result of the £6 billion deal.

The move was confirmed by EU antitrust regulators who gave the go-ahead on Monday to the plans for the merger of the Automobile Association with the travel and insurance firm, which has its headquarters in Sandgate.

Saga employs some 3,900 people worldwide, with the overwhelming majority based at its Shepway base.

This week's announcement came after EU legislators determined the deal would not stifle competition within the insurance industry – specifically breakdown services, an AA speciality also offered by Saga.

But the EU team said Saga's share of the market was so small that it would not have a major bearing on competitiveness.

A spokesman for the Euro lawmakers said: "The Commission has concluded the transaction would not significantly impede effective competition."

Saga, which began as a single hotel in Folkestone in 1951, was created by the de Haan family and specialises in travel and insurance for the mature market.

A Saga spokeswoman said: "The EU has cleared the deal and that is very good news. It's another tick in the box of our plans to grow and now all that remains is a money transfer – that is just an internal procedure between the two businesses, but it can take a couple of days.

"This is really good news for all of our customers and, of course, all of us staff."

Council calms fears over housing plans

■ BY ROB LIVINGSTONE

SHEPWAY COUNCIL has moved to quash fears that the proposed draft of the Government's South East Plan would lead to a massive increase in new houses.

The proposals for 5,100 new homes in the Shepway area over the next 20 years have attracted criticism from opponents of the plans.

The plan would see new housing developments built in Folkestone, Hythe, Hawkinge and at Romney Marsh.

In a statement attempting to address concerns over the number of proposed houses, Robert Bliss, the leader of Shepway council, said: "It is interesting to note that Shepway's housing figures over the next 20 years have not changed from the original proposals."

"We will need to see how and where this number of homes can be allocated, but it does not pose any immediate problems to our current housing land supply. We must remember that these are targets – not requirements."

But there are still people not convinced by the plan.

Steve Dawe, spokesman for the Kent Green Party, said "The most important question is who is the housing for? There is a worry that these houses will be second homes or buy-to-let. Bearing in mind the council's poor history of social housing, there is a long way to go."

U-boat is still causing trouble in the Channel

■ BY NICK AMES

PLANS to remove a German U-boat which lies on the seabed in the busiest shipping lane in the world have been scuppered.

The UB38 sunk in 1918 with all hands lost after its attempted attack on British vessels carrying supplies to troops in war-torn France was foiled.

But almost 90 years on, Trinity House – which looks after Britain's coastline – decided to move the sunken warship as it poses a danger to ships.

It is in shallow water just south of Folkestone and large vessels such as cruise ships and supertankers are not permitted to get too close.

This means lanes are restricted and the chance of a collision dramatically increased.

But a survey has now revealed the original plan to resettle the wreck is unworkable as the floor of the sea is "too dense".

Marine experts this year discovered the submarine was 77 feet below the surface – 10 feet less than the internationally recognised safety level.

Plans were formulated for a trench to be dug alongside the vessel and it to be rolled over into a new watery grave.

But further investigations have shown this is not possible as the undersea surface is too solid to be excavated.

Now divers have been left with just one option – to drag the ship into deeper waters.

This would involve attaching lines to the superstructure of the U Boat – which still contains the bodies of around 30 German seamen who perished when their ship struck a mine.

One salvage expert explained: "You cannot just roll this ship over as was first thought.

"Now this is a massive operation. Conditions in that part of the Channel can be treacherous.

"To drag the U boat – which weighs 300 tonnes – into deeper water is the best option.

"That will require cables being attached and a powerful surface vessel to use its engines to move a sunken ship which has been embedded in the seabed under water for 89 years."

Trinity House say the plan is now to move the ship next year. But officials are refusing to state how and when this will take place.

Originally the idea was to relocate it this month but the recent survey has shown the first proposals no longer hold water – so the veteran vessel will continue to be a shipping hazard for several months.

A spokesman for Trinity House said: "Although the wreck has remained undisturbed since 1918 the increasing number of deep draught vessels navigating the strait now means the submarine is restricting available sea room."

The wreck lies to the south of the Varne Bank and is currently being closely monitored by coastguards.

DAVE PULLS IN TOURISTS

ANOTHER summer in Sandgate has been enriched by the presence of Dave the Dolphin.

Throughout the summer, visitors from across the South East have been travelling to Battery Point, on the Sandgate coast, to see the female dolphin.

Local resident Beverly Gaffney, of Naildown Road, said: "I've never seen this many people down here.

"You could pop in the garage and the queues would be out the door."

Lee Holland, manager of the nearby Murco garage, agreed.

"Even in the rain, people came down, we had people from London looking for the dolphin."

While most visitors to Battery Point have been happy to swim near or just watch Dave, concerns have raised about people harassing the friendly dolphin.

Two men were arrested for animal cruelty after climbing on Dave's back, attempting to ride her. They will appear in court next month.

Airport proposals fail to convince inspectors

PLANS for Lydd airport have suffered a crushing blow with a recommendation that the proposed expansion be excluded from the Government's South East Plan.

The report from the plan's Examination in Public panel "considers that a reference to the potential at Lydd airport would be inappropriate in this plan... as there would be significant environmental and transport considerations".

It says the final decision on the expansion should be made as part of the local planning process but states "we are unconvinced as to the extent to which the airport could act as a major economic driver".

Shepway District Council is expected to discuss the planning application this autumn, although there are calls for a public inquiry.

The expansion plans have been roundly condemned by nature conservation groups, which are alarmed at the airport's effect on the internationally important wildlife of Romney Marsh and Dungeness.

■ BY ROB LIVINGSTONE

Chris Corrigan, the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds regional director, said: "This new report backs our belief that the damage caused by airport expansion will far outweigh any benefits."

"It highlights the need for the proposals to be properly tested, something we are convinced should be done at a public inquiry if they cannot be ruled out before."

The proposals, which, according to the airport operator, would see the current level of 3,000 passengers a year rise to two million by 2015, have attracted widespread opposition from local residents and environmental groups.

The proposals would mean an extension of the runway to allow larger planes to land and a new terminal building to cope with increased passenger numbers.

Lydd airport's owner, London Ashford Airport Ltd, says expansion will benefit the whole of the South East, as well as the immediate area.

It claims expansion will provide "a viable solution to the increasing UK demand for air transport" and that it will lead to a "regeneration of Romney Marsh" and boost tourism in Kent and East Sussex.

A Shepway District Council spokesman said: "The council extended its usual 21-day period for comment and carried out a six-week consultation programme which included public meetings and exhibitions."

"The council received around 2,800 comments in response to its public consultation. Nearly 90 per cent of people who took part in the consultation opposed the plans."

Pet owners fined after their dogs' foul play

TWO dog owners who allowed their pets to mess in the street have been fined £50.

Fixed penalty notices were served by Shepway council officers after the offences in George Gurr Crescent, Folkestone, and Aerodrome Road, Hawkinge.

Cllr Rory Love said: "No one should have to dodge the dog mess when they are out and about."

WINGS OVER THE MARSH

NO wonder Lydd airport's Cliff Spink is looking pleased. Some 25,000 people attended this year's Lydd Air Show in what the organisers called "a magnificent success." Crowds gathered on the first week of September to see the RAF Falcons parachute team, the Blue Eagles, the Battle of Britain Memorial Flight and the Team Guinot wing-walkers.

Bogus officer cons pensioner

A PENSIONER from Hythe was robbed in her home by a man posing as an undercover police officer, on Friday, August 21.

The woman, who is in her mid-eighties, was deceived when the man claimed he was an undercover officer who needed to use her flat as an observation point. He showed her a black wallet, which she assumed to be a police warrant card.

The man was inside the home in St Leonard's Road for a few minutes. When he left the woman discovered her jewellery box and a gold ring had been stolen.

Police describe the man as white, 5ft 8in, medium build, with short brown untidy hair.

He was wearing dark, smart clothes. PC Phil Harvey Hendley said: "This man has taken advantage of the trusting nature of an elderly lady and stolen her property. If you have elderly relatives and neighbours please remind them to check everyone's identity thoroughly and not to let anyone into their home."

"We have a scheme here in South Kent, where callers are asked to go to a nominated neighbour to deter bogus callers. Anyone who would like information should contact Sally Coleman, our Parish and Neighbourhood Watch Liaison Officer 01304 218151."

Any information call Kent Police on 01303 850055, or Kent Crimestoppers, 0800 555 111.

QUESTION & ANSWER

MICHAEL HOGBEN

Q You've lived in Folkestone all your life. Has it changed much over the years?

A Folkestone in my younger days was like a massive playground, with shops like Bobby's (now Debenhams) to run havoc in. There was The Leas walk to go roller-skating, and the Zig Zag path to run up and down... the harbour area with its outdoor and indoor swimming pools; skating rinks; the boating pool and the Rotunda. I'm a great supporter of Roger De Hann and his ideas for Folkestone – the rejuvenation of the harbour is long overdue. It will keep the town alive for another 250 years.

Q What made you want to stay local and build your business here?

A The Kent coast has for many years been the gateway to Europe – the fact that Folkestone was my home town was a bonus. In 1970, when I opened my first boutique, Micky Finn & Co in Risborough Lane in Cheriton, the fashion world was a very exciting place to bet. One of my seven high fashion boutiques was in the old high street, so it's weird that it has now become one of the trendier areas of Folkestone.

Q You've had many different businesses in Kent, ranging from a fashion boutique to the county's first wine bar. What made you go into the world of auctioneering and antiques?

A Antiques have been a life-long passion. By the time I reached 30ish I decided to make a career from buying and selling art and antiques. I did not realise how much studying you had to do to get even a small knowledge about art and antiques. I was very lucky to meet an elderly tutor from Andrews Art Dealers in Bond Street, London, who wanted to pass 50 years of knowledge on to a student.

After a while I decided that auctioneering suited my style of dealing, and in 1988/9 I opened my first saleroom in St John's Street, Folkestone. We then moved in 1996 to the Highfield industrial estate. It was a busy, family-run business. And by 2001 my auctioneering style had attracted the attention of the television world. The BBC decided to film a prime-time docu-soap called Auction Man, which aired in 2003. By late 2004 I was offered my own show on Channel Four called Name Your Price. It was time to move on to career number four – television presenter.

Q You are well known in the area – how do you find your celebrity lifestyle?

A I don't really feel any different, to be honest. It's more the way people look at you when you've been on television – to them you're now a celebrity, but in real life I haven't changed. The best bit is I'm able to help raise money for charity as a celebrity auctioneer. I feel proud that over the last five years I have helped raise more than £500,000 for good causes.

Q What is your favourite thing about Folkestone?

A The Metropole arts centre and the Grand Hotel on the Leas – they both epitomize the decadence of the Edwardian times when Folkestone was a seaside town to be reckoned with. Until recently we lived in the west wing of The Metropole hotel – the apartments in there are the grandest in town. We restored ours back to its former glory

Q Is there anything you don't like about Folkestone?

A Certain areas of Folkestone could do with a revamp, especially Tontine Street, but that's heading in the right direction now so the future looks bright.

Q Is there anything that could be changed to make Folkestone a better place to live?

A I really think the changes going on throughout the whole of the town will make a tremendous change to Folkestone. I wish they would consider building another pier – every seaside town should have one.

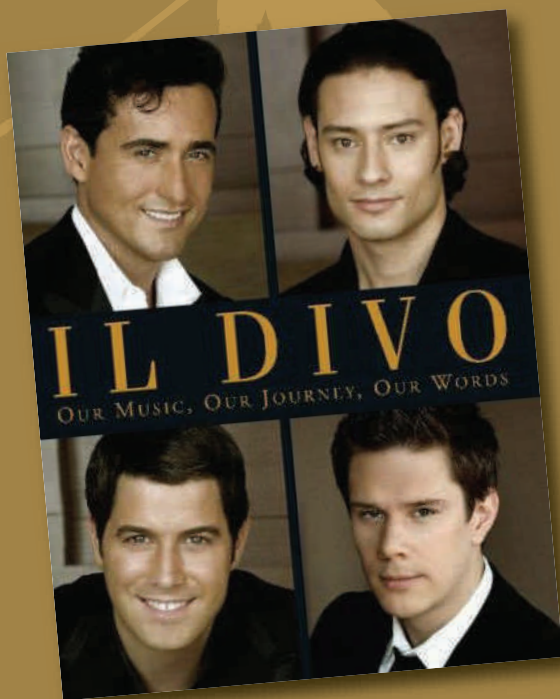

Q Do you think you'll stay in Folkestone after all your success in television?

A Unless Hollywood wants to sign me up, we will stay in the area. We still enjoy walking with our chihuahuas, Jimmy and Minnie, along Lower Sandgate Road, the canal in Hythe, or The Leas – they all sum up what Folkestone and its local areas have to offer.

Q & A

His eccentric style made antiques dealer and auctioneer Michael Hogben a natural for television. Here he reveals to Rob Livingstone why life as a celebrity has not dimmed his love of home town Folkestone.

Fight to save historic street

A CAMPAIGN to save one of Britain's most historic streets begins today.

Minor Canon Row in Rochester attracts thousands of tourists every year after being used in some of author Charles Dickens' greatest works.

Owners the Diocese of Rochester is being forced to sell the street as it cannot afford to maintain it.

Its seven houses have Grade I listed status, but this only protects the buildings and does not safeguard the street itself.

Dr Edwina Bell, director of operations for Rochester Cathedral, said: "We would have far preferred to sell off the leasehold to retain a large measure of control over the place as a whole. "However, this is no longer possible following changes in law, so we have had to sell each property independently."

■ BY NICK AMES

So in order to preserve the Victorian street, the church – along with its legal advisors – want to bring in a Rent Charge Scheme, which sets out in stone "planning dos and don'ts".

If successful the bid will ensure the character of the street is preserved forever – as once in place it transfers automatically from owner to owner and can never be thrown out.

Top clergy are now set to spend hundreds of man-hours sifting through applicants to buy one of the properties which cost up to half a million pounds each.

The first tenders were examined this week – but a decision is not expected until around Christmas.

Medway council's Labour planning spokesman Nicholas Bowler is backing the campaign.

He said: "I understand improvements need to be made to the interiors and you should never let buildings fall into disrepair.

"But I fully support any move to ensure our heritage in Medway remains intact."

Ted Baker, a member of the local civic society and the Dickens' appreciation group The Pickwick Club, is also supporting the campaign.

He said: "The people coming in need to treat the area properly. What we want is something for the city to be very proud of indeed."

GPS aid to help parents keep an eye on the kids

A PIONEERING child tracking system has been launched for the start of the new school year by a Maidstone firm.

A GPS-based device lets parents know where their children are to an accuracy of 15ft. The BlueRanger, costing £19.95 per month, uses GPS and mobile phone networks.

A spokesman for Blue Tree Services said: "It was developed in response to the needs of parents, who want to allow their kids the freedoms they had in childhood but also want reassurance their children are safe."

Council staff allowed to network via Facebook

MEDWAY council has gone against the national trend banning staff from accessing social networking internet sites at work.

Medway NHS Trust this week joined a number of high-profile organisations including Kent County Council in restricting workers from logging on to Facebook and MySpace during office hours.

But Medway council bosses have decided they do not need to ban their staff, but have stressed they should only check personal messages during breaks or after work.

Post offices set to be hit by massive cuts

MAIDSTONE and its surrounding villages look set to bear the brunt of swingeing cuts in post offices as the Government axes services.

With a total of 32 small branches in and around the county town, post masters fear for their futures with an announcement expected in November.

This week Maidstone council condemned the plans as "totally unacceptable" – even before a proposed consultation takes place.

Maidstone begins the six-week procedure, scheduled to start on September 17.

Daughter of superbug victim talks about her health campaign

Plea for NHS to clean up its act

THE daughter of a World War Two veteran killed by a hospital superbug today launched a campaign for better treatment of patients by the NHS.

Former Sergeant Joseph Nixon, 87, survived the Dunkirk evacuation, but was defeated by the dirty conditions at Maidstone Hospital.

He caught clostridium difficile after a routine operation.

To honour his memory his daughter Jackie, 46, is launching a nationwide campaign to stop any other patients suffering like him.

The Humane Campaign calls for a number of urgent changes to stop vulnerable people wasting away and contracting killer bugs like MRSA and C diff. These are:

- Better cleaning of hospital wards and changing dirty bed linen more regularly to stop patients' wounds getting infected.
- Stimulating the elderly with access to radio and TV so they do not give up and succumb to superbugs.
- Providing better nutrition in hospital food.
- Allowing families greater access to their relatives to keep them happy, help feed them and clean them.

Mrs Nixon said: "I have to stop people suffering like my father did – I owe it to his memory."

WIN! A space-age Memory Foam bed worth £2,400

from The County Bed Company

PLUS: Runner-up prizes of £10 gift vouchers compliments of yourshepway.co.uk

SEALY helps you get the temperature right in bed.

Too hot? Not hot enough? The new Sealy Mirrorform bed, with its revolutionary temperature-regulating technology, means an end to uncomfortable night sweats and shivers.

KOS Media has teamed up with The County Bed Company in Strood and Sealy to offer the chance to win a new Sealy Mirrorform bed worth up to £2,400.

Incorporating NASA-inspired Outlast Technology, developed to protect astronauts from temperature fluctuations, the special microcapsules in this amazing new bed absorb excess heat that can be released back to the body later if needed.

It even has the ability to adjust to the individual body temperature of two users.

This means that sleeping on a Sealy Mirrorform bed ensures a constant micro-climate that regulates the in-bed temperature to ensure the perfect night's sleep, all year round.

There are four models in the range to suit all size and comfort requirements, all featuring a luxurious soft-touch velour cover with a zonal quilt design and an advanced pressure-relieving, multi-layer Memory Foam layer that enhances support for perfect spinal alignment.

The Outlast Technology reduces temperature swings and influences the comfort zone, efficiently providing you with a perfect temperature for sleeping.

The Outlast microcapsules that are built into Sealy's Mirrorform beds absorb excess heat to reduce the climate's temperature. But as the excess heat has been absorbed it can be released back to the body if needed.

The latest collection, which is unique to Sealy and the UK, has been significantly redesigned to offer a fabulous look, more choice and a new, technically advanced, memory core.

All models feature:

- A luxurious soft-touch velour cover with a zonal quilt design
- Continuous air-mesh surround providing perfect ventilation
- An advanced multi-layer memory supply system
- Optimum comfort and ventilation
- Pressure-relieving memory layer to enhance support for perfect spinal alignment.

To enter this great competition, simply answer the question:

Q) What is the name of the new revolutionary temperature-regulating Sealy bed?

Send your entry on a postcard with your email address (if applicable), name, address, and daytime telephone number to: The County Bed Comp, KOS Media, Apple Barn, Hythe Road, Smeeth, Ashford, Kent TN25 6SR.

You can also text your answer to 81800 by sending BED, followed by a space, the answer, a space and your name and address.

Messages cost 25p plus standard network charges. The service is provided by g8wave London N7. Closing date is October 15, 2007.

To see the full range of Memory Foam products, visit The County Bed Company, 133 High Street, Strood, ME2 4TJ, or phone on 01634 722228.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in the district of Shepway...

Asbo generation leaves me banging my head against...

NATURAL selection may well have inspired Darwin when it came to the finer points of the theory of evolution, but I can categorically state it does not hold true.

If it did, some of the thickest, most irresponsible men and women out there would not be blessed with children.

They would be sterile or simply incapable of the rudiments of reproduction.

Yet, remarkably, they continue to prosper, producing offspring whose grasp on social responsibility slips through their tiny little fingers at an alarmingly early age.

They shirk the responsibilities which come as standard in parenthood – they fail miserably to teach the basics of respect and courtesy and then when someone points the finger of blame at them they shrug and laugh.

And the worrying thing is, this will continue. Their dim-witted, selfish, badly behaved children will in years to come produce their own children – and, with the worst examples to draw upon, will ensure the Asbo generation continues to stretch through the decades.

Last week I had a nice little wall in front of my house on a quiet terraced street. It wasn't the most sophisticated barrier in the world, but it was nice enough and protected the plants and flowers we had in our front garden.

But as the summer holidays dragged on, so it seemed the desire for a gaggle of local kids to entertain themselves became increasingly desperate.

And so they pushed my wall down. A few bricks each night at first, then the whole thing. I heard the last bit collapse and spotted the youngster doing it. What's more, my daughter recognised them. They were eight years old. And it was nine at night.

The answer, of course, would be to approach their parents. To talk in an adult way, perhaps for them to suggest the child says sorry, to maybe review letting one so young stroll around the streets in failing light on their own. Just maybe.

But the parents, if indeed possible, look and act even thicker than the children. And I can't help thinking that expressing our irritation will result in returning to my car/home one morning and finding the tattoo-coated mum or dad has put a brick through the window... to make matters worse, probably one kicked out of our new, replacement, wall.

Or else the kid probably ends up on the end of a beating, which, however tempting such a prospect is, will only encourage him to believe violence is an option to address problems, and quite frankly I don't really want to add to that. And therein lies the dilemma.

Society and the law-abiding majority do an awful lot to help that child. But if they return home to ignorance and crass stupidity, then what hope do we have?

I just hope my wall didn't die in vain – that other brick-built barriers must not suffer as mine did.

And, more importantly, I never, ever, have to put my incompetent DIY hands to the task of building a new one again.

TALK TIME

CHRIS KIRKHAM

The manager of Discover Folkestone, Hythe and Romney Marsh loves the area but is aware that an image problem needed tackling.

How has Shepway developed in your lifetime?

"Folkestone is the hub of a seaside and rural area possessing unique scenic, historic and other assets of a quality and quantity which many other holiday areas envy. Unfortunately and undeservedly, because of the the displeasing appearance of some parts of the town, it has acquired an image problem which has prompted negative publicity.

"A much more positive picture is now emerging as problem areas are being improved alongside highly visible regeneration projects which will transform the town centre, seafront and harbour areas. Their completion will enormously enhance the attractions of Folkestone as a holiday, shopping and leisure destination, making it well able to compete with other south coast resorts.

"Prospects for the future are immensely exciting. Folkestone's doldrum days are on the way out and there is a great story to tell prospective visitors."

What changes would benefit the area?

"Out-of-town projects already under way or in the planning stage – such as the M20 service area at junction 11 which will include a hotel and information point, developments near the Eurotunnel terminal and at Lydd Airport, both of which include hotels, plus the introduction of high-speed rail services from London – will also contribute significantly to the local tourism product.

"The presence of Eurotunnel only a few minutes' drive from the town centre – as well as the proximity of the port of Dover and airports at Lydd and Manston – give Folkestone great advantages in tapping into huge markets in mainland Europe and farther-afield.

"Everyone can help to spread up-beat messages about what we offer – and about the extra attractions which will soon be part of the visitor experience."

YOUR LETTERS

A few words of congratulations

"I'M delighted to see this new service set up for Ashford. This is a fast-growing town and it needs every means possible of communicating its message to the rest of the country and the world."

Damian Green, Ashford MP and Shadow Immigration Minister

"THIS promises to be an innovative form of media publishing. May it do well for its own sake and be of benefit to the town itself and villages around.

"Good luck Yourmaidstone!"

Maidstone artist Graham Clarke

"I WISH KOS Media the very best with its new venture. Local news for residents to engage with is an important part of creating a flourishing community and I look forward to the contribution Yourmedway will make."

The Very Rev Adrian Newman, Dean of Rochester

"GOOD luck with the new paper. The district has some lovely towns and lovely people and a very active and vociferous community! I genuinely look forward to hearing further from you.

Jeannie Law, deputy leader of Canterbury council and councillor for Seasalter

"ALL best wishes for a successful future. I am pleased to support local ventures and look forward with interest to reading the newspaper.

YOUR NEW PAPERS

Welcome to the very first edition of your new local paper, which for the first time opens both newspapers and television to local journalism in one place.

As well as the paper you hold in your hand, we are offering a totally new broadband television service for you. And it's all free.

By simply logging on to www.yourshepway.co.uk, you can share your favourite videos with readers, get your news as it happens and, more importantly, tell other people what is going on.

Yourdover intends to give you a voice reflecting the issues and concerns of everyone in your town. You can email us, text-message us, phone us... or even use simple letters via the Royal Mail.

But we do want to hear from you. We would like to see your pictures and we want to see your videos. These are YOUR newspapers, and YOUR websites. We hope you will enjoy using them and contributing to them.

This is just one of eight newspapers and websites that KOS Media – publishers of the award-winning Kent on Sunday and Saturday Observer – has launched today across the county.

Our launch has already met a positive response and here are a few of the emails we've received.

"During my time as Mayor I have been delighted to discover the range of activities and the dedication of volunteers – the unsung heroes – in the borough and hope that they receive the coverage they deserve."

Mayor of Maidstone Richard Ash

"KENT is one of the few areas in the country that still retains a vibrant local paper.

"It is great that KOS Media has continued to develop and improve its package.

"I am sure that the new Yourmedway paper will become as much a part of our community as Kent on Sunday already is.

"On behalf of Dickens World I would like to wish the paper great success."

Dickens World managing director Kevin Christie

"IT is an exciting venture and it will be very good for Canterbury, Herne Bay and Whitstable to have a reporter assigned to the area. I look forward to meeting you in the future."

Ann Taylor, councillor for Reculver on Canterbury council

"MEDWAY is an exciting and vibrant place with lots of interesting things happening that are worthy of headline news.

"My best wishes go to the Yourmedway newspaper. I'm looking forward to reading it every week."

Medway council leader Rodney Chambers

"I WOULD really like to wish everyone at Yourshepway the best of luck with the launch. It will be good to have another outlet for our fans to read about what is going on at the club. All the very best for the future."

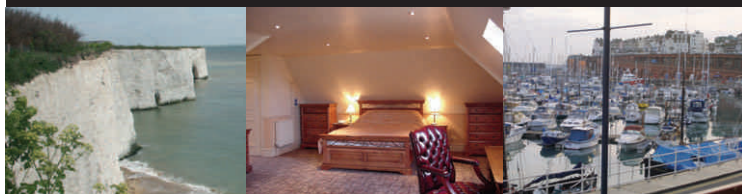

Folkestone Invicta manager Neil Cugley

"VERY good luck with the new paper. We always welcome more coverage of our area."

Ida Linfield, councillor for Westgate on Canterbury council

Dave's back with a bang

Funnyman gets back behind the drum kit to tour with his new band, The Bewildered Gentlemen

A LARGE PORTION OF DAVE LEE
Saturday, September 15
The Gulbenkian Theatre
Canterbury

COMEDIAN Dave Lee is returning to his rhythmic roots this month as his new band The Bewildered Gentlemen relive the swinging 60s.

The larger-than-life comedian began his career behind a drum kit, and the nostalgic show, A Large Portion of Dave Lee, seeks to recreate the atmosphere of Lee's formative years.

His handpicked band of session musicians are set to groove their way through some psychedelic favourites, interspersed with routines from the famous funnyman.

He said: "I started out on drums when I was 15, and was in and out of a few bands. Then Eric Morecambe said I had a good face for comedy, whatever that means, and it went on from there."

"When I first started, there was a group in every street in every town, and we all had a great time. I was out in Germany in the 60s and 70s like the Beatles and the Hollies were, and it was a special time. It'll be a chance to relive that."

The Bewildered Gentlemen include a steel guitar and two keyboards, a line-up designed to faithfully recreate the all-important 60s sound. Lee is sure the audience will share his sense of nostalgia and certain his carefully picked covers will go some way to recreating the feel-good vibe.

He said: "There are plenty of people as old as me about and still going strong, but quite a lot of youngsters like the music from that era too."

But Lee will not be spending the entire show with sticks in hand, and the popular stand-up will be doing just that in between sets.

He said: "It's rock with laughter. We'll play a few songs with some comedy in between."

The Gulbenkian date is just the beginning. Lee is taking The Bewildered Gentlemen on the road, and the Canterbury date is the start of a national tour of small theatres which will include Maidstone's Hazlitt Theatre and several other Kent dates.

Supporting the gentlemen are Motown trio Fancy 3, whom Lee describes as a sensational all-girl vocal group.

A Large Portion of Dave Lee is at The Gulbenkian Theatre, University of Kent, Canterbury, on Saturday, September 15. The show starts at 7.45pm and tickets, costing £14, can be booked by phoning the box office on 01227 769075.

Visit www.dave-lee.co.uk or www.gulbenkiantheatre.co.uk for further information.

CLASSIC English comedy Hobson's Choice comes to The Marlowe Theatre this week.

The show stars John Savident, best known as Coronation Street's eccentric Fred Elliott.

The play concerns the subjects of class and gender and is set in Salford in 1880.

A spokesman for the production said: "This production is of a story which remains as radical and relevant as ever."

"Obstinate Henry Horatio Hobson runs a successful bootmaker's shop and is a widower with a weakness for a drink."

"He is always trying to get the better of his three daughters and he wants a 'no-marriage' policy to avoid paying a dowry."

"But eldest daughter Maggie is having none of it and she starts to rebel – setting her sights on her father's chief bootmaker, shy Will Mossop."

Tickets are priced between £10-£19, with evening shows at 7.30pm and matinees on Thursday at 2.30pm.

For more details, visit www.marlowetheatre.com.

Spirit of the Dance has been seen by more than 30 million people in 15 countries. The longevity of the show, which sometimes has up to 10 separate groups performing around the world, can be attributed to the constantly evolving dance routines.

Tickets for the show are priced at £18.50 and £16.50, but concessions are available. For more information, phone 01303 228600, or visit www.leascliffhall.co.uk.

The show, which has sold across the UK, pays heartfelt homage to a true artist who was not interested in fame and fortune, but wanted nothing more than to create beautiful music.

More than a life story – this is a performance for anyone who has lost someone they love.

Tickets for Over the Rainbow are priced at £17.50 (concessions available). For more information, phone 01303 228600, or visit www.leascliffhall.co.uk.

'I'm not in it for the fame'

■ BY EILEEN CONDON

HE'S the toast of Hollywood thanks to acclaimed movies such as The Last King of Scotland and the Chronicles of Narnia – and he's starring in the new film Atonement alongside Keira Knightley.

But you won't find actor James McAvoy chasing the LA limelight.

The actor says he has a "pathological hatred" of celebrity culture and would run a mile rather than be photographed with the likes of Paris Hilton.

"We're so obsessed with celebrity and it's terrifying – I just don't care about who's wearing what or the nightclub you stumble out of," he said.

However, if anyone does have a right to hit the Hollywood party scene, it's McAvoy. He's got a lot to celebrate. At just 28 he's risen rapidly from virtual unknown to one of the movie world's hottest talents.

After making his name in the Channel 4 comedy drama Shameless, he progressed to the big screen in hit films such as Starter For Ten, Becoming Jane and The Last King of Scotland, for which he won a Bafta.

Not surprisingly, the down-to-earth star is relishing every bit of his new-found status as Tinseltown's golden boy.

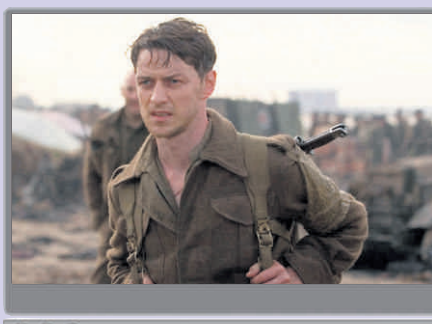

"It's really, really nice to be working," he said. "That's the way I've always looked at it. It's always about the work."

"I'm very lucky that fantastic scripts have come up – you don't get them every day. I've loved the fact I've been able to do such a range of different things."

"I always wanted to do an 80s comedy and and filmed on location in Shropshire and Redcar; the movie also stars Vanessa Redgrave and looks like being another sure-fire hit for McAvoy.

McEwan has already heaped praise on the young star, and McAvoy himself says the film has been the highlight of his career so far.

"It was just deadly," he said gleefully. "It's definitely been the finest acting experience of my career. I loved the character of Robbie. He has empathy for everyone and forgiveness for everyone. Then something terrible happens to him and his world view changes from the most positive kind to a negative kind."

"He ends up fighting a bigger war than the one going on around him. He's fighting a war for his soul."

But though we'll be seeing a lot more of the talented star, you can guarantee it won't be on the party scene.

"I'm only doing my job. I'm absolutely not in it for the fame," he said. "Who I am isn't important. What I do is."

A trip to India's smallest state

BY GEORGINA RODGERS

HURLING along in our clapped-out 4x4 vehicle in the oppressive heat of the mid-morning sun, we swerve suddenly to avoid yet another wandering cow.

In Goa there are no road markings, few traffic lights and seemingly no right of way. The same rules, it seems, apply to the hordes of stray animals that appear only too happy to take a midday nap in the middle of the road.

Sweat clings to my forehead and I am trying hard to not think about the delicious rogan josh that I devoured the night before.

It seems like we have been travelling for days – in fact, checking my watch I realise it has only been two hours – but Goa's bumpy roads make even the shortest of journeys a bit of an ordeal.

As we emerge from an overgrown track, I realise the car journey was worth every minute. Before us stretch miles of golden sand as far as we can see. Palm trees reach up for the sky and the only noise we can hear is the sound of the Arabian Sea as it crashes rhythmically against the beach.

Most of our holiday was spent just lapping up the sun, swimming in the sea, eating delicious home-cooked food and aiming for complete relaxation. It wasn't hard – it was the perfect respite after leaving the damp UK behind.

The best time to visit India's smallest state is between the end of October and the end of

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD: Goa's beaches are among the finest in the world and well worth a visit

April, after which it becomes very humid and the monsoon rages. There is virtually no rain at all during the winter months and temperatures hit around 30°C every day.

Relaxing on beautiful beaches has always been Goa's main attraction – and given that the state boasts 100km of coast, there are plenty of deserted locations from Morjim and Aswem in the north to Vagator in the south.

For a busier sunbathing experience, head north to the bustling centres of Baga and Calangute, where you can bag yourself a bargain in one of many beachside shacks selling an array of jewellery, clothing and woodwork.

In fact, it is very hard to spend money here – you can satisfy your taste buds with a three-course meal for as little as £5, a large beer costs about 80 pence and you can even bag a made-to-measure silk shirt for £10. Getting around is also cheap and easy, with shorter taxi journeys costing as little as 50 pence.

For foodies everywhere, dining in Goa is an absolute delight combining a range of Indian, tandoori and seafood dishes.

The curries were full of distinctive flavours – spicy, but not too hot and never too heavy, like English versions.

If animals are your passion, then a trip to Goa isn't complete without an elephant ride. We spent two days in Shanti, a tiny hamlet within the Bhagwan Mahavir Wildlife Sanctuary, surrounded by natural beauty.

On the first day we were lucky enough to ride a very friendly elephant into a river, where we sat on her back as she sprayed us with cool water. Her reward? Bunches of tasty bananas bought from a local market, followed by a coconut scrub of her leathery skin as she relaxed in the cooling waters.

Away from the towns and villages, Goa has some stunning scenery and much of it is still untouched by mass tourism.

As we watched the sun rise up over the hills I knew I'd definitely be back.

History

Colonised by the Portuguese more than 400 years ago, Goa was absorbed into India in 1961, becoming a fully fledged state of the republic in 1987. However, it is still the most Westernised part of India, with period churches a prominent feature of the landscape. Its mixture of sun, sea and sand saw the state become a hippy haven in the 1960s and it still retains an element of the counter culture. However, the state is now also a popular package holiday destination.

Culture

The people of Goa call themselves Goans and are proud of their homeland. Legends from Hindu mythology credit Lord Parshuram – an incarnation of the god Vishnu – with its creation. Staple food in the state is fish and rice, but some dishes retain a Portuguese influence. Mackerel, crab and lobster are particularly popular and beer is readily available. English is widely spoken, as is the local state language of Konkani and the national Hindi tongue.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

A loving relationship stirs up all sorts of dramas this week. You've always been very certain about your values, but there's something about your other half that shatters confidence. A childish outburst only adds to your dismay. It's been a long time since you've felt this emotional. Maybe that's a good thing. Love forces you to operate on instinct.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

The arrival of a child or lover in your life could result in quite a few upsets. Maybe you don't have sufficient funds or friends won't approve of your amour. Whatever the source of irritation, you need to take a deep breath and assess the situation rationally. It may be necessary to throw time honoured beliefs out the window and try something new.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

A new source of income could be coming your way soon, but you're not sure if you really want this money. There seem to be lots of strings attached. You may be enlisted to collect debts or call in a loan. While it pains you to go to these lengths, it is important to get what you are owed. Don't let your generosity undermine your own financial security.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

You could be thrust into a group of unfamiliar people, which is really disorienting. These people hold beliefs that seem to be the opposite of yours. To add insult to injury, they seem to want to delve into your private life. Before you lash out against these folks, consider how they could ultimately benefit you. Learn to grin and bear their idiosyncrasies.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

Working with a friend or partner reveals some hitches in your relationship. You may not be able to contain your anger and it's possible that things will never be the same. Be prepared to face the future on your own. If you do manage to stay together, things need to change. For one thing, you've got to stop burying your feelings beneath a polite veneer.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

A new living arrangement may be imposed on you quite suddenly. It's possible you'll have to find another place or move out of your home temporarily. Although the initial blow will be shocking, you'll gradually come to appreciate the change. Getting a little distance from an oppressive relative or roommate will free you to become more organised.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

You're about to undergo a profound personal transformation, and it won't be easy. It's possible a partner or relative makes a remark about your appearance that really stings. If you've gained a lot of weight or have neglected your looks, you need to turn things around. Granted, you'll have to make some painful sacrifices.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

You may be called to account for something you have done that's really irritated a relative or partner. Although you hate being forced to defend yourself that is just what you have to do. Be ready to admit your mistakes. This week marks an important turning point with regard to your reputation. Take responsibility for your actions.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

A physical injury could be a blessing in disguise. Don't despair if you're forced to change your daily routine in order to heal. Slowing down may be more important than staying in tip-top condition. At times, you will be frustrated that you can't do as much as you'd like. This is also a good time to take up a spiritual practice or study.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

You may have to learn a subject by being thrown into an unfamiliar setting. Although an authoritarian expert will probably get on your nerves you would be wise to listen to their advice. There maybe something about this person that makes you angry. Whatever the your frustration, you need to overcome it for the sake of something bigger.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

Breaking away from public life may be the only way to heal your broken heart. It's simply too painful to go to the places you visited with a former lover or friend. The positive thing to come out of this situation is a new appreciation for solitary pleasures. Now it's time to turn inward and discover your hidden depths.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

Others may mock your awkwardness, but don't let that deter you from making the best of a difficult situation. You'll eventually win their admiration by holding your head high. A shocking bit of news could reach you, but try not to jump to conclusions. Keep your distance from an overly aggressive colleague who wants to impose their will on you.

Hop on the fast-food express with Nigella

■ BY ANDY WELCH

"THIS new book is for everyone really," purrs Nigella Lawson, slightly contradicting the introduction of Nigella Express, which claims the recipes are for 'working mums'.

"Of course, it can be used by working mums, but it's good for people who haven't had much experience of cooking," she continues. "Or people who feel recipes are too intimidating for them, as well as those who are good cooks, but don't have the time."

"The recipes are as simple as 1-2-3, which is why I've numbered the methods in the book. 1, cut this, 2, add a little something, and 3, stir it and take it out of the pot; it's done."

Flicking through Nigella's new tome, she would appear to be totally right. Her recipe for classic dessert Eton Mess couldn't be simpler – "Just buy the meringues!" she laughs – while the roast poussin and sweet potato dish, from the glossy picture in the book at least, looks like a delicious new take on an old classic and can be made in just over half an hour.

"That's just a fast version of my mother's roast chicken and roast potatoes, only poussins don't take as long to cook."

The recipe appeared in the first episode of the accompanying BBC Two series, being shown on Mondays, and embodies the message Nigella is trying to get across.

"I'm not taking dishes that should be lovingly cooked for four hours and creating a 30-minute way of doing it," she says. "I'm saying if you don't have enough time to cook a pork shoulder, cook a pork chop instead and I'll show a way to make that equally delicious in the time you have."

"There are such bad connotations of convenience food," she continues, without stopping for breath. "There's one school of thought that seems to think if you haven't spent hours slaving away, it's not worth it. That's certainly not the school of thought I adhere to."

"I don't believe cooking is about suffering. I'm simply trying to show that good food can be cooked quickly, like my quick chicken stew, or Curry-in-a-Hurry."

"The whole point of this book is proving there isn't just one way to make your life easier, sometimes you want something that you can knock together in 15 minutes after buying the ingredients on your lunch hour or on the way home from work."

"Other times you want to be allowed to sprawl in front of the TV or help your children with their homework, or whatever it is you have on at the weekend, and let the oven take the strain and do the cooking that way."

The new TV series shows the curvaceous cook demonstrate how to make selected concoctions from the book. It's Nigella's fourth to date and her first full series for the BBC. Her three-part festive special last Christmas marked her move over from Channel 4, who had broadcast two runs and a seasonal edition of Nigella Bites, as well as follow-up Forever Summer.

"I'm looking forward to it being on, but there's always a moment of apprehension and excitement. I just hope it does well," she says coyly, before revealing the more self-conscious side to her character, which seems slightly at odds to the talented, confident and, let's face it, beautiful lady we know so well from her TV appearances.

"I don't like looking at myself, so I never watch a finished series. I have shown it to my husband and children, who thought it was great, and my agent loved it. I've got my own little focus group, and the people who know me and love me don't think I've made a fool of myself."

"I'm excited about many of the recipes. I really want people to try them at home because they can make people's lives easier, so you'll be able to spot the slightly evangelical ring to my voice when I talk about them."

PETE MOLINARI: FOLK and blues star Pete Molinari has come a long way since being discovered by cult rocker Billy Childish.

The talented singer/songwriter has become a regular fixture on the intimate Medway circuit, played established acoustic clubs in London and even spent an 18-month stint in New York, performing in the same venues once graced by such folk and blues greats as Woody Guthrie and Bob Dylan.

His choice of instruments – guitar and harmonica – has drawn a lazy comparison with Dylan, but Molinari's soft, touching and seemingly effortless work stands out on its own, according to his many fans.

Molinari plays in London at the Health and Happiness at the Social night, in Little Portland Street, near Oxford Circus, on Tuesday, September 18.

Pete Molinari will feature on yourkenttv.co.uk – go there to upload your band's video.

YES! METRO: INSPIRED by the likes of Interpol, Minus The Bear and The Flaming Lips, 16-year-old Shaun Galvin from Canterbury is Yes! Metro.

Peddling his own brand of riffy geek rock and performing with just a laptop computer and voicebox for company, Yes! Metro shuns the emo scene adopted by so many of his peers, clearly making his priority music rather than fashion.

It's obvious that Yes! Metro looks like one to watch in the future and is fast building an online following on Myspace.

Say yes to Yes! Metro and catch Galvin playing at Canterbury's Orange Street Music Club on Saturday, October 6, as part of its Oxjam night.

Yes! Metro will feature on yourkenttv.co.uk – go there to upload your band's video.

ONE DAY ELLIOTT: MIXING versatility with their own unique sound has proved the key to success for One Day Elliott.

The four-piece rock band from Maidstone have just returned from their second triumphant US tour.

In the UK, One Day Elliott have appeared on the same bill as big acts such as The Fall, Hundred Reasons and Jesse James, and album sales now total more than 5,500. Having been brought to national attention with airplay on Radio One's Lock Up Show, the band certainly appear on their way up.

Vocalist and principal songwriter Paul Richards claims that having influences as diverse as Led Zeppelin and Green Day has helped the band find their own voice. "We all love rock but listen to different styles," he said.

One Day Elliott will feature on yourkenttv.co.uk – go there to upload your band's video.

One-to-one attention! I don't feel tired or lethargic anymore!

Before I was introduced to SureSlim, I had tried other diets which really didn't work for me, I was left feeling miserable, fed up of being the size I was and fed up of being on my own.

My life was being affected by my weight: relationships, day to day life and not being able to control my weight, so I decided to contact SureSlim.

My consultant explained everything, the diet, the foods, the seeds, the times to eat etc, and so I took the plunge. What I really liked and what convinced me to join, was the one-to-one attention and the whole programme gave me structure and discipline. I also knew SureSlim were always at the end of the phone!

All very different from the other diet clubs I had tried.

During the first week, I had to detox but I had no ill effects at all. I started to enjoy the foods I was allowed and realised that I was eating properly for the first time in ages. I lost 10lbs in the first week!

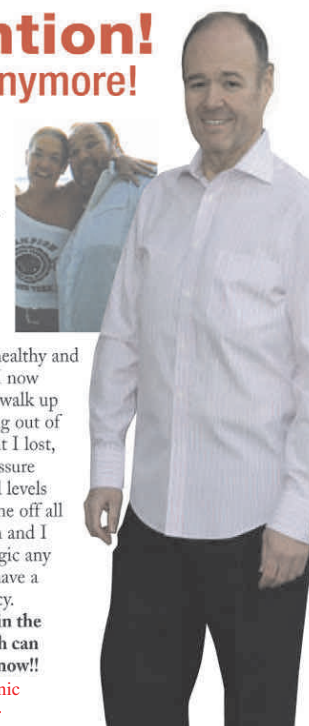

I have continued to lose weight and have gone from 397lbs to 184lbs, that's 28 stone to 13 stone!

Since losing the weight I can now buy clothes from 'normal' shops and I don't stand out anymore because of my weight – I blend in with other people.

I've had such a good response from friends and family and I feel so much more confident, healthy and happy in all situations. I now swim regularly and can walk up the stairs without getting out of breath. The more weight I lost, the better my blood pressure readings and cholesterol levels became. I have now come off all the medication I was on and I don't feel tired or lethargic any more and best of all, I have a prolonged life expectancy.

There is not a word in the English language which can describe the way I feel now!

PROPERTY NEWS

Smell of the sea can win the sales race by a nose

SELLING your home? Planning to release the aroma of freshly brewed coffee and home-baked bread through your home as the viewings begin? Then stop for a moment.

That's SO last season, according to Alison Cork, presenter of ITV's Homes & Properties, what people want now is for a house to smell clean and fresh.

Neuro-psychologist David Lewis said: "Every house, like every person, has a totally unique signature smell. It's made up of old skin particles, hair, cooking odours, crumbs and dust.

"It's difficult for owners to detect the smell of your own home as your brain becomes used to the scent over time, however, to visitors it can be the first thing they notice when they enter a property."

A normal reaction to a strong smell is to want to escape it – not ideal when you're keen to show off your strategically placed flowers.

Alison's advice is to give each room a really good airing. So fling open the windows and let the atmosphere of Shepway's wonderful environment and heritage do the selling for you.

Second nest will bring a healthy equity return

IT'S not just children that are back to school at this time of year. Teenagers are making their way to university, leaving nests empty and parents rattling around in suddenly silent homes.

But now empty-nest syndrome has been replaced by second-nest syndrome with parents who invest in a property for their child at university able to finance their child's further education and enjoy a substantial return when they sell.

According to Bryant Homes – which has set up a website to help parents search its new developments near universities – key towns such as Manchester, Nottingham, Durham, Bristol and Warwick are expected to provide a 16.5 per cent return over a three-year period.

Second-nesters can also feel happy their child is in a safe house with a good landlord (you!) and not facing the perils of freezing conditions, damp and woodworm.

Advice is available on whether second nests should only be purchased if they come with a fully equipped utility room. Don't bother – studies show you'll end up doing your child's washing regardless.

HARBOUR LIGHTS: After the summer holidays potential house-buyers start to think about moving to a new home – and where could be more attractive than the Kent coast?

It's the autumn sales, so be quick out the blocks

■ BY MARNIE SUMMERFIELD SMITH

IT'S back to school for children and back to buying and selling houses for adults across east and south Kent.

A typically busy period in the property market is expected, perhaps because parents, post-summer holiday, have time to consider things other than how to occupy children on a wet Wednesday afternoon.

"As the children pick up their pencils, we see the housing market pick up again after summer," said Helen Hepworth, from GW Finn & Sons in Sandwich.

But if you're only just recovering from the expense of summer, you won't be pleased to hear that, as far as the housing market goes, Christmas is fast approaching – it's only 14 weeks away.

"Many people choose to move in time for Christmas," said Hepworth. "People like to get warm and cosy in a new home for winter."

Market trends show that some people will put their house on the market at the end of October or beginning of November, hoping to be somewhere new by Christmas.

However, some estate agents advise getting the house-moving process moving now.

Remarkably, house sales have been known to complete on Christmas Eve or even between Christmas and the New Year, which is an added pressure no one needs at that time of year.

The internet has redefined the way people hunting for a new home view possibilities. Property websites are becoming as popular as shopping, dating and celebrity gossip sites.

Psychologists believe it satisfies our dual desire to learn more about the way others live and daydream that we too might live that way.

Haart's quarterly housing market report says that buyers overall are prepared to bide their time to avoid paying over the odds.

Sellers are lowering their house price expectations to make homes more tempting.

House prices in the county have gone up 5.6 per cent in the past year to bring the cost of an average house in Kent to £226,402, according to the Land Registry.

In Ashford the average house costs £240,394, an increase of 8.1 per cent for the year.

Maidstone is £236,282, up 9.6 per cent, while the average house in Canterbury costs £219,970, an increase of 9.2 per cent.

Dover's average is £189,614, up 11 per cent for the year, while in Shepway a home will cost you £201,566, up 10 per cent in a year.

On the Isle of Thanet the average house costs £178,936, up 4.9 per cent, and in Swale it's £175,45, down 3.8 per cent compared with three months ago but still a 2.9 per cent rise for the year.

Across Medway the average house went up 9.4 per cent in 12 months to £171,422.

Car cramming drive for Demelza House

CHILDREN and parents rose to the challenge when SMC Mitsubishi in Sittingbourne asked them how many toys, books and unwanted CDs they could cram into a Mitsubishi Outlander 4x4 in aid of Demelza House Children's Hospice.

SMC Mitsubishi manager Richard Stockwell was overwhelmed by the response: "The Mitsubishi Outlander is a pretty spacious vehicle by anybody's standards, but we could have filled the car three times over with toys, such was the generosity of the local people."

"We are delighted that we have been able to help young people at Demelza in this way and hope the toys will bring them lots of pleasure."

Extended green scheme from Land Rover

BARRETT'S Land Rover has extended a pioneering scheme to offset CO₂ produced by the cars it sells.

The original plan offsets the first 45,000 miles on 2007-model cars, but Barretts of Canterbury and Ashford offers a voluntary extension for pre-2007 Land Rovers and any exceeding 45,000 miles.

Mark Nicholas, of Barretts, said: "Our existing scheme has shown us that drivers want to play an active role in the reduction of greenhouse emissions, and helping the drivers of older vehicles to do the same was the next logical step."

Deals boost new reg deals at SMC Ford

FORD dealer SMC is predicting a bumper September, helped by potential savings of almost £3,000 on some new '57 plate cars.

"Consumer offers we have put on the table for this September's new registration really seem to have caught the public's imagination," said Paul Elligate, regional sales manager for the group, which has Kent sites at Sittingbourne, Gravesend and Crayford.

"For example we are currently offering a massive saving of £2,877 off a brand new Focus Zetec Climate 5 door."

TORQUE ABOUT POWER: The firebreathing 237bhp SEAT Leon Cupra out performs the Golf GTI by a few tenths of a second on the sprint to the all-important 60mph

Beast from Barcelona

SEAT launched its latest Leon on TV by suggesting there was a beast on the loose.

With a coupé-style five-door hatchback body that conveyed the impression of a beast about to spring, this was not idle fancy.

But the Spanish arm of the VW Group has since added 'wilder' turbocharged versions; the 197bhp FR and, more recently, the fire-breathing 237bhp Cupra.

This allows the Leon line-up to outgun the VW Golf upon which it is based, with more aggressive style and a Cupra flagship that out-accelerates the Golf GTI by a few tenths of a second in the sprint to 60mph – believe me, this matters to some people.

In reality, it means nothing on our crowded and clogged-up roads, since you can't use such performance properly or safely anyway.

On the other hand, this is a cracking-looking car – note the concealed rear door handles to enhance the coupe styling – and has a rawness that compels you to like it.

At the same time, the Cupra is every bit as well mannered as the Golf GTI, possibly more exciting to drive and some £1,500 cheaper.

It is also more interesting than the Ford Focus ST and far more manageable and practical than the Vauxhall Astra VXR.

No wonder almost half of all Leon sales in the UK are this hot version and the only slightly cooler FR.

It is not as if you have to keep the beast on a leash when traffic is heavy, either, because it pootles along and rides well for a hot hatchback... I still have all my fillings. Give it a prod though and the beast grows from under the bonnet and out of the exhaust.

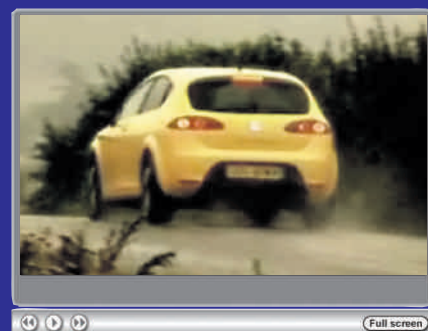

It will probably never have the prestige or low depreciation of the Golf – since the original 1970s GTI started the whole hot-hatchback thing.

And the interior tries to be clever and ends up looking a bit dull and plastic, but I back it as a good 'alternative' hot hatch even if you risk bringing out the beast in you.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

A new bridge is built across the Channel

BUSINESSES in Folkestone are teaming up with their counterparts in Dunkerque in a bid to attract more visitors to both towns.

A meeting between representatives from either side of the Channel focused on problems experienced by the two towns as well on possible solutions.

John Barber, Folkestone town centre manager, said: "We agreed to maintain strong contacts and to explore the possibilities of joint projects and events to promote Channel region shopping and leisure opportunities."

Close working relationships had already been established with the local authority in Boulogne, said Mr Barber. "We now look forward to similar commercial entente arrangements with organisations in the Dunkerque area."

SMEs warned not to spend taxman's money

CASH-STRAPPED businesses are being warned to avoid dipping into funds earmarked for the taxman, a financial specialist has warned.

Although often done with the intention of catching up in subsequent months, the practice is a high-risk strategy if the business continues to underperform, said Mike Lee, a director at Corporate Strategies, part of the UK business advisory group DTE.

He said: "Some SMEs are particularly vulnerable to the tax arrears pitfall because they don't have a finance director or an in-house accountant or if they operate in complicated industries. The directors of an SME sometimes don't know they are struggling until they are deep into the mire of tax arrears."

You can join the debate on the county's future

FAST TRACK TO SUCCESS: Regeneration in the north of the county, including the new Ebbsfleet international station, will be discussed at a public meeting tonight

IT'S ONE of the biggest regeneration projects in Europe – and likely to provide business opportunities across the county.

And tonight a public meeting takes place with top officials discussing the latest update on the housing and employment explosion in the Kent Thameside area as part of the Thames Gateway project.

It is estimated that some 30,000 homes and 50,000 jobs will be created in and around the region – with the new Ebbsfleet international station at its heart – sparking a host of possibilities to boost business opportunities.

Speakers will include Paul Williams, deputy chief executive of the Kent Thameside Delivery Board (KTDB) – the body set up to develop the area between Dartford and Gravesend.

He will discuss the enhanced community

BY GARETH ARNOLD

and environment facilities planned for the site

A key concern of the KTDB is to develop "economic and business competitiveness".

The meeting takes place as part of Kent County Council's Dartford Local Board.

Bertie Bassam, chairman of the board, said: "The Kent Thameside regeneration project will have a huge impact on the lives of local residents. This is a wonderful opportunity to find out more about what is planned for the area and the likely impact on us all."

"It is such good news to have Ebbsfleet international station opening so close to us. It will be good to find out more about this and Fastrack links as well. There is no need to book for this meeting, please just come along."

Also speaking will be representatives of Fastrack, a transit network set-up to link the new developments in the area, and launched in spring last year.

David George, Fastrack project manager, will talk about the success of Fastrack after almost 18 months of operation and give an update on the recently opened route which serves The Bridge development at Dartford and surrounding areas.

He will also explain how Fastrack will provide connections to Ebbsfleet international station and the new Eurostar services, which start in November.

Doors for the meeting open at 6.30pm for a 7pm start at the Swanscombe and Greenhithe Town Council offices at The Grove in Swanscombe.

Gillingham chairman Paul Scally talks to our new online TV channel

Double does it for Town

DEAL Town continued their excellent start to the season with a 2-0 win away at Holmesdale.

First-half goals from Dave Bathgate and David Cory were enough to win their fifth consecutive game in all competitions.

Manager Derek Hares said: "I felt we deserved to win, but I thought Holmesdale were a decent outfit," he said.

"We are unbeaten in six games now so we're on a good run and hopefully we can keep it going for as long as possible."

Bathgate opened the scoring on 24 minutes with a deflected free kick, and Cory doubled the advantage with a header 15 minutes later.

Hares picked out Leon Ingram for special praise. The left-back had a great game, winning tackles and using the ball well. His colleagues in the defence snuffed out the threat from Holmesdale, ensuring a comfortable win.

Deal are in FA Cup action this weekend when they travel to Dulwich Hamlet in the first qualifying round.

BACK ON COURSE: Folkestone Invicta have overcome a shaky start to the season and Saturday's 1-0 win over Heybridge Swifts was the club's second victory on the trot minute header from Stafford Browne, and Sean Marks at the far post missed his chance to convert the rebound.

Invicta themselves had chances to increase their lead at Scraley Road, but were thwarted by good defending and wayward finishing.

In the first half, Heybridge goalkeeper Stephen Northwood did well to keep out a James Corbett header. At the other end the home side forced a succession of corners on the half-hour mark. They created two good chances to draw level, but Mann dealt with headers from Marks and Browne.

Invicta's best chance to double their lead came on 73 minutes when substitute Ellis Remy seemed certain to score. His shot beat the keeper but could only watch as the ball rolled agonisingly just past the post.

Heybridge had a late chance to equalise when substitute Matthew Batt won a corner after 86 minutes, but centre half Tobi Janadu fired wide at the far post when the ball fell to him.

After losing four of their first five games, Invicta now look to be settling into the league campaign. Back-to-back wins have pulled them away from the relegation zone and the side now lie 13th in the table.

They have an excellent chance to extend their winning run, with the next three games being played at the Buzzlines Stadium.

On Saturday they take a break from league action to take on Horsham YMCA in the FA Cup first qualifying round. The visitors from the Ryman Division South have had a miserable start to their campaign, winning just once.

OFF TO A FLIER: Deal (in black) got their season off to a winning start against Old Elthamians

Five-star display by Deal

RUGBY

Deal 47 Old Elthamians 10

DEAL & Betteshanger began their season in style by running in five tries to beat Old Elthamians comfortably.

The star of the game was Tom Best, who kicked superbly in addition to his two tries to finish with 32 points.

Manager Martin Michaels was pleased with the efforts of his players, and his only complaint was that the margin of victory might have been even greater.

He said: "It would have been a travesty if we had lost the game.

"I think we were a little frustrated because we could have scored more, but with it being the first game of the season all the players were a bit anxious which led to a few errors."

The home side welcomed back Dan Best, who was sidelined for the whole of last season with a hip injury.

Despite the long absence he didn't look out of place as the hosts controlled the game throughout and led 20-3 at the break.

Deal beat the visitors twice last season and that run never looked like ending in the second half as the visitors struggled.

Deal finished third last in the London 3 South East league last term and this result will bring hopes they can push for promotion this season.

The side performed well in pre-season, beating Beckenham from the division above 32-29, and Michaels thinks his team are in good shape.

He said: "The players have worked hard in pre-season training and they have got their just rewards by winning both games so far."

They will look to consolidate this Saturday when they entertain Old Mid-Whitgiftians.

Sloppy Whites let two-goal lead slip

FOOTBALL

BY DAVID PRITCHARD

Dover Athletic 2 Dulwich Hamlet 2

DOVER Athletic threw away a two-goal lead against lowly Dulwich Hamlet to lose their 100 per cent home record and top spot in the league.

Fans at the Crabble paid tribute to Dennis Hammond before kick-off with a minute's applause. The former director and lifelong Whites fan died last week from Motor Neurone Disease.

When the game began, player-manager Andy Hessenthaler's side looked set to continue their excellent start to the season when they cruised into a 2-0 lead. Dulwich have struggled this season and came into the game with just one win.

Dover were gifted the lead after three minutes thanks to a horrendous goalkeeping error from the visiting stopper.

Dealing with a regulation back pass, Chuck Martini's clearance was charged down by Jon Wallis. The ricochet fell to Steve Lovell, who cushioned his volley into the unguarded net.

Dover were rampant in the first half, carving openings almost at will as Dulwich looked second best. Jimmy Dryden, Frannie Collin and Hessenthaler all had chances, but a combination of the woodwork, wayward finishing and last-ditch defending thwarted them.

Fans at the Crabble did not have to wait too long for the second, which came six minutes before the break.

From the right flank Collin fired a dangerous ball between the defence and the goalkeeper, and Lovell arrived at the back post to coolly slot home for his second from four yards.

The interval transformed Dulwich who scored twice in seven second half minutes.

Benson Kpaka's superb run and strike got the visitors back in it and some poor defending just before the hour allowed the equaliser.

Dover forced late chances but could not find a winner, and slipped to second in the league.

CHANCES: Frannie Collin's efforts were in vain as Dover failed to hold on to a two-goal lead against Dulwich Hamlet

BENCHMARK: Dover started their first game in London 3 South East with a solid win over Aylesford Bulls

Dover tame Bulls in league debut

Newly-promoted Dover Rugby Club got their season off to the best start possible in London 3 South East with a 30-16 win over Aylesford Bulls.

Dover scored four tries thanks to their game plan of turning the ball over as often as possible. Their first try came when Buster Collins peeled off the back of a five-metre scrum and got the ball out wide to winger Lee Tonks, who split the defence and crossed the Aylesford try line.

In the second half, Dover piled on the pressure and within two minutes of the kick-off, a turnover led to a 35 metre run by Ricky Mackintosh, who scored under the posts. Fly-half Martyn Beaumont added the conversion.

Mackintosh then scored the try of the game after pouncing on an Aylesford error. He chipped the ball over the backs and Beaumont crossed the line to keep the score ticking over for Dover.

Soon after the restart Mackintosh was involved again securing possession and off loading the ball to Jamie Townley who touched the ball down.

Despite having two players put into the sin bin, Dover held out to win by 30-16.

Team manager Richard Collins said: "It was a great game for us and we've set our benchmark for the season. This win will have filled the players with confidence and if we can carry on the kind of defensive play against Aylesford, then we should be fine."

Dover will be in action this Saturday in the league, at home to Lordswood, and will be hoping to maintain their 100 per cent start to the season.
